CUSTOM IS FOR

every day.

There's a long-held belief that special clothes should be reserved for special occasions. We couldn't disagree more. We believe that you feel your best when you look your best—so why not feel great every day?

That's why our custom garments aren't just made to fit your frame and suit your taste, but also to serve your lifestyle.

Imagine what a flexible pair of golf pants could do for your drive. Or how an impeccably cut sport coat would make you feel during an interview. And when a special occasion does roll around, we'll make you a suit worth celebrating in.

Flip through these pages and you'll find ideas for the many moments of your life. Because for each big day there are countless everydays—and we can help you dress for all of it.

01.

SQUARED AWAY

The windowpane overlay on these check trousers mimics the jacket fabric, creating a modern take on mixed patterns.

NO SWEAT

When you have to wear a three-piece suit in the heat, wool infused with silk and linen and an end-on-end cotton shirt help keep you cool.

LIGHT TOUCH

Made from a wool-silk-linen blend, this jacket weighs just 7.1 ounces. It's a perfect match for a lightweight twill shirt and white cotton trousers.

SUMMER ESSENTIAL

A two-button jacket and flat-front trousers in 100% cotton make for a versatile summer suit. Dress it up if need be, or wear it with a polo shirt and sneakers for casual Fridays.

02.

GOOD SPORT

Flat-front trousers in crisp white are perfect for hitting the links—and a Harrington-style jacket is a must for crisp early tee times. Just add your trustiest golf shirt.

SHORT CUT

Seersucker is refreshingly light, even in a dark color like navy. It's a no-brainer for a summer suit that'll function just as beautifully as separates.

FRESH COAT

For fluctuating spring temps, be prepared with versatile separates, including a 100% cotton field jacket, short-sleeve linen shirts, and slash-pocket chinos.

COMFORT ZONE

A sport coat with casual details, such as patch pockets, always looks great with chinos or jeans. For truly laid-back affairs, swap out your button-down for a V-neck tee.

CLEAN SLATE

Don't let wrinkles ruin the impact of an all-white suit. Opt for 100% wool instead of cotton to keep things smooth, even when traveling.

MAKE 'EM BLUSH

Pink is arguably the color of the season. It's a fun, unexpected choice for sportswear, especially in a tonal look like this bouclé jacket with darker cotton shorts.

ALL IN

Head-to-toe pink was all over the season's runways, and we couldn't resist it either. It's the ideal hue for a lightweight linen suit as fetching as it is fashion-forward.

FEELING GOOD

Texture can distinguish custom clothes as much as bold color. This buffalo-plaid patchwork wool layered over a linen shirt gives an easy summer look a lot of depth.

CUSTOM IS FOR

days you need to stand tall.

Life's most memorable occasions deserve clothes to match. The season's laid-back vibe may not call for black-tie formality, so instead consider suits and dinner jackets cut from more casual fabrics.

DUAL TONE

Who says a three-piece suit has to be one color? A vest in a different tone of the same fabric adds visual interest and subtle sophistication.

MIX TAPE

Mixing patterns is always a festive move. Just balance out the playfulness of it with minimal construction details. This jacket embraces simplicity with a shawl collar, self-facing fabric, and a single button.

SWEET SPOT

For a truly innovative look, go for a three-piece suit with a casual vibe. This striped Merino wool has the ease of seersucker, but with a luxe hand that feels right for formal occasions.

Our process

All you really have to do is show up to a Clubhouse. Once you meet with one of our custom specialists, they'll help you with everything else—from garment and fabric selection to taking all the necessary measurements.

We'll require about 5–7 weeks to complete your custom clothing. When it's ready, come back in and try it on. We'll take care of any necessary adjustments. But if your garments are good to go, then you can take them home that day.

TRUNK CLUB CUSTOM

Our fabrics

We look to the sartorial capitals of the world to find our fabrics. From Biella, Italy, there are centuries-old mills known for sourcing the most sought-after Merino wool in Australia. From Yorkshire, England, there are mills dedicated to upholding the meticulous traditions of Savile Row. Vitale Barberis Canonico, Dormeuil, Scabal, and Loro Piana are just a few, but we work with countless more.

Of course, there's no point in curating the world's best fabrics if you don't have the expertise to back it up. That's why we've nurtured partnerships with our incredible merchants and mills—not only do they give our custom specialists world-class training, but they even collaborate with us on exclusive fabric offerings.

TRUNK CLUB CUSTOM

Our standards

We treat our fabrics with as much care as the mills who weave them. When it comes to the construction process, we forgo any fusing or gluing in favor of half- and full-canvas techniques. Whereas the average mass-produced suit takes approximately 90 minutes to sew, our tailoring partners spend anywhere from 4–6 hours meticulously cutting and stitching your garments. This attention to detail upfront guarantees a great fit that conforms to your body's shape even more over time.

Our finishing touches

It's not just about the custom pieces. Our stylists can help you complete your custom looks and replenish your wardrobe with whatever else you may need.

CUSTOM BELTS

Made from durable skins dyed in a spectrum of rich colors, our American-made belts have a choice of buckles, lengths, and even monograms.

SCARPE DI BIANCO

Nearly every pair of this Italian company's shoes is made entirely by hand—which is why they produce only 25 pairs per day.

READY-TO-WEAR

Custom is not an all-or-nothing decision. In fact, the best garments fit seamlessly into your regular wardrobe. We always recommend great denim, polos, and tees to finish off casual looks.

Thank you, Charleston.

The things we love about your city—the color, the architecture, the character—are exactly what we love about custom clothing. We couldn't have produced this book without you, so our sincerest thanks for everything.
